ARMIES, Dec. 13. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)-German deviltry seemed to know no bounds in the insidays of the fighting on the British from after the Hindenburg line had been chattered. They attached greenades to the bodies of dead Huns left behind in the bodies of dead Hurs left behind in the German retreat, so that when the bodies were lifted the grenades ex-ploded, killing or wounding the bearers Near the town of Le Cateau a num-ber of Australian stretcher bearers were Near the town of Le Cateau a number of Australian stretcher bearers were killed by these grenades in attempting to remove some German dead from the field in front of an American manine gun position. Thereafter no Australian would put hand on a dead German. In some cases the bodies were tragged to their burial places by means of a long rope, which allowed the stretcher bearers to keep out of range of any exploding hand greandes. The Americans, on the other hand, the upon the plan of making the German prishers bury their own dead, in me instance a boche prisoner was summarly shot because he refused to remove the body of one of his dead comminded. An examination of the body after led to the discovery that it was mined. The German will aware of this fact and refused to touch it.

In one small town evacuated by the lermans, many of the beds were found to be mined. An American officer, tired and worn by long and hard fighting, sought rest on a lounge in a room occupied by a German officer. The lounge blew up and he was instantly killed.

Another officer picked up a pair of field elbert with the land of the beds were found the dead of the counge blew up and he was instantly killed.

NEED GOLD STANDARD WHEN TERMS SIGNED

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Conditions neces-sary to the maintenance of an effect-ive gold standard should be restored without delay after the terms of peace are signed, reports a committee headed by Lord Cunliffe, which was appointed to consider currency and foreign ex-change problems after the war. The committee said:

change problems after the war. The committee said:

"Unless the machinery which long experience has shown to be the only effective remedy for an adverse balance of trade and an undue growth of credit is once more brought into play, there will be grave danger of a progressive credit expansion which will result in a foreign drain of gold menacing the convertability of our lasue and so Jeopardising the international frade position of the country."

To maintain the gold standard the committee recommended cessation of government borrowing as soon as possible, establishment of an adequate sinking fund out of the revenues and the raising of the Bank of England discount rates.
